STARS OF THE WEEK:

6th October 2023

Bees. Izzie D: Izzie is always an absolute super star. This week she has wowed us with her recall of our Talk for writing text. She loves to perform and stood up in front of the class to perform 'Steve the Snake'. She remembered all of the details and actions beautifully. Izzie is always on task and always trying her best. Well done Izzie!

Butterflies. Hudson: Hudson has been trying extra hard to participate in all our focussed sessions. He is concentrating so hard in phonics and loves to retell the story of Elmer. It has been lovely to see him exploring the environment with his friends this week. Well done Hudson.

Squirrels. Ivy N: Ivy has been working incredibly hard in both her phonics and Maths recently. She has been more focused during carpet sessions and her attitude to learning has been lovely to see. She has enjoyed being more successful in Maths and seeing her beautiful smile when she is so proud of herself, makes our day. Well done, Ivy, keep working hard.

Frogs. Isaac: For being a role model to his peers. Isaac has not only worked hard all week but since he joined Frogs class. Isaac is always following the class expectations showing all the other children exactly how to act. Well done Isaac you are a super star!

Mice. Milo: Milo has an infectious energy that is a wonderful gift to our class. He has a can-do attitude towards his work. He always tries his best; he is a well-deserved star of the week.

Hedgehogs. Gabe. Gabe has turned a real corner in term of how he is settled into year 2. At the beginning of the year he struggled a little and wasn't his usual happy self. However, now he is so engaged, always putting up his hand and has an amazing attitude to his work.

Moles. Esme: Esme has been a super star this week, she has been a wonderful example of good behaviour and hard work in the Moles classroom. Esme is also contributing in every lesson and working hard on explaining her answers in Maths. Well done, Esme!

Rabbits. Alice: Alice has been working really hard in class this week. She has made a real effort to put her hand up to join in with class discussions and has worked really hard independently with her Maths and English work. Well done Alice!

"Together, we will make a difference."

Badgers. Lauren: Lauren has had a brilliant start to Year 4. She has come into school and started her day wonderfully. She is showing herself to be such a grown up and responsible young lady. Keep it up Lauren – you're doing great!

Foxes. Evelyn: Evelyn always has a positive attitude. She tries her best in everything even if she finds something tricky. She shows resilience in different situations and always tries to look at the positives. Evelyn is always smiling and her enthusiasm shines through. 😊

Kingfishers. Sofia A-M: We're so proud of your resilient attitude this week Sofia. When faced with a challenge, you're always brave and have a 'can do' attitude and we've seen this in our geography sessions when using digital mapping. Finding the longitude and latitude coordinates wasn't easy but you fully embraced the task and impressed us with your determination to succeed. Well done 😊.

Owls. Eva: Eva has shown how confident she can be this week! She has been putting her hand up and sharing her brilliant ideas in English, as well as her excellent reasoning skills in Maths. I am very proud of you, Eva! Well done!

Kestrels. Addison: General attitude to learning and fabulous work ethic. He can always be relied upon to get organised and start a task straight away with no fussing.

Sparrow Hawks. Lexi: Lexi has worked so hard this week with Mrs Barlow and I to understand the art of Long Division! She has shown great resilience and has impressed both of us with her work- well done Lexi!
